RUSHERS OF PIG-SKIN

Colleges All Agog Over To-Morrow's Great Football Contest.

About the Players.

To-morrow the great event of the collegiate year, the Thanksgiving football game, is due. For weeks past this has been the one great topic in every college town in Indiana, and the points of strength and weakness of the opposing "giants" of Purdue and DePauw have been discussed collectively and individually. Even in this city every man and woman who owes allegiance to a college has been talking of the coming game and making preparations to go.

The managers of the two teams have been here since Monday completing arrangements for the contest. The teams will arrive to-night, and with them will come the bulk of the students from each college, as well as numerous stragglers from the other Indiana seats of learning, to whoop and howl for their favorites. The game will be played at the fair ground upon the plat in front of the grand stand, and will be called

THE PURDUE TEAM.

Organization that Has Held the Indiana Championship Three Years. Manager William B. Anderson hails from Otwell, Ind. He entered Purdue University with the class of '92, having served as pedagogue two years before entering, but was called from his studies by the death of his father, whose interests he managed for two years. He is now a senior in the agricultural course and expects to enter agriculture upon graduation. "Dock" is a hustler, and he has won the confidence of team and public by his business methods and conscientious work. Much of the success of a team depends upon the manager, and Mr. Anderson is a good one.

any other Western football man, will be out of the game on account of injuries received at the hands of malicious opponents in previous games. Finney has made a model captain and is a fine player either as tackle or half back. His playing in the East with the Chicago team last year attracted the attention of Walter Camp and Casper Whiteney, and he has had strong temptations to go eastward, but has been ambitious to see his old team the equal of any. He is a clean, cool-headed player, never overrunning his guard and always making gains. He comes from Dana, Ind. is twenty-two years of age, weighs 170 and is a senior mechanical engineer.

Arthur L. Fulkerson, left guard, and captain in Finney's absence, lives at Raglesville, Ind. He has come to be called the "Western Heffelfinger" for his great invays at the right place and never fails advance the ball, and has never played against his equal. He is twenty-four years of age and weighs 172. Fulkerson is a senior in mechanical engineering, and is interested in a series of locomotive tests which will probably keep him in Purdue laboratories another year as post-graduate. It remains to be seen whether he can be induced to enter the field next year, having done so reluctantly this year, feeling that he could not lose the time for practice. He is an active literary society man and a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity. Jesse Little, right tackle, is the oldest player on the team, and has bowed to the Indianapolis public five times on Thanksgiving day. Everyone knows him as "the silent man," a name which he has earned, not because he cannot talk but because he thinks it unnecessary. In a reminiscent ary papers are exceptionally thoughtful. He is president of the Emersonian Literary Society and a conscientious member of the Y. M. C. A. He is a sure player, strong and quick, and follows the ball. When "slugged" he retaliates with touchdowns and never gets angry. He is from Lowell, Ind.; is twenty-five years old, weighs 162 and graduates this year in the School of Agriculture.

Jay Lee Turner, right guard, lives at Muncie, Ind. He is a science student in the preparatory year, and is eighteen years old. He entered the season weighting 275 the preparatory year, and is eighteen years old. He entered the season weighing 276 pounds, but speedily trained up to 283, when he had his elbow severely wrenched and retired for a while. He has since trained down to 261. He learned something of football in the University of Kansas last year, and has done good work this year. His size renders him both a considerable obstruction and an unwieldy object to tackle. Another year of training will render him invaluable. He is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity. Sigma fraternity.

Guy P. Deardorf, tackle, has for two years been a member of the second eleven,
but was this year asked to fill Stevenson's credit until the accession of Robertson, since which he has played tackle. He is a freshman in mechanical engineering, eight-een years old, weighs 166 and lives at Shadeland. He has done good work against some very strong centers, but is in his place at tackle.

Clarence H. Robertson, the new center, is from Helena, Mont. He comes directly from the South Dakota Agricultural College and ranks as junior at Purdue in me-chanical engineering. He had played foot-ball a few times, but knew little of the modern game until three weeks ago, when he entered practice. He is six feet three inches tall, weighs 188 pounds and has a clear head and decisive manner that utilizes all his strength. Prolonged training will make him a good match for the great Wisconsin center, who ranks first. Leon McAllister, right end, has had two years of training on the second eleven and has long been near his present place. He is a heady player with a steady nerve and sure eye and his tackles are models. A man once in his clutches might as well fall down easily; for he must come. McA. lives at Logansport, is twenty-six years engineer, strong in his classes. The left end, usually filled by Nelson Olin, will- probably be played by Charles A. Schmitz, of Fort Wayne. Schmitz has played on his High School team and has been an honored member of the second eleven this year, attracting much attention by skillful work. He is a freshman mechanical engineer, eighteen years of age and weighs 149. He will probably take McAllister's place next year "Billy" Aldrich, a Chicago boy, has played the position of quarterback the entire year. The qualities that make him the best short-stop in the State make him a first rate uses his head well. He is twenty years old, weighs 134 pounds and is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity. Harry C. Buschman, who played right half in place of the disabled Captain Finney, is well known as an Indiapapolis boy. He is a very fine back throwing great momentum into his runs and bucking the line splendidly. He has a fine record as a sprinter and has made long runs with the ball. He is a sophomore electrical in Purdue, a member Both Purdue and DePauw Have Strong Teams This Year—Something of the Sigma Chi fraternity, is nineteen years old and weighs 184.

Sam L. Pattison, also an Indianapolis boy, plays left half. He is a sophomore electrical, a Kappa Sigma, nineteen years old, weighs 132. He earned his place by exceptional work in the Chicago game, where he showed strong qualities in bucking the line and in judicious and at the same time des-perate running. He has a permanent place The only Lafayette man on the team is Alpha P. Jamison who made a great record as half back last year. He went to full back very reluctantly as he is not strong at punting, but his strength at tackling and his great guarding made him a necessity there. Time after time he has caught the opposing runner when the only man in his way and saved a score against Purdue. He is not afriad of anyone and although he has had some terrific falls has never been ser-iously injured. He is eighteen years old and weighs 140. He is a junior in mechanical

old, weighs 147, and is a Phi Delta Theta. He has been catcher two years for the I. U. baseball team and played quarter back for them last year. Lawrence A. Downs, sub tackle, deserves Captain William P. Finney, half back, effective work of the second eleven, of which he has been captain for three years. He is good player, though rather light, and knows the field thoroughly, being a first-class field captain. He halls from Green-castle, is a Sigma Cal and active member of the Irving Literary Society. He is twentyone years old and weighs 160.

William F. Khobelin, sub guard, is a new man from Lowell, Ind., a protege of Jesse Little. He weighs 171 pounds and plays a magnificent game. More training will put him in the footsteps of Fulkerson. He is a prep., aged nineteen and has plenty of time in which to develop.

Joseph R. Hudelson, from Owensville, Ind., is a good all-around player with a thorough knowledge of the game and can good ball in several places. He was a imbian Guard, is a junior electric, twenty-two years old and weighs 156. Noah Gerber has played tackle in several hard games and ranks as first sub after Deardorf's place. He weighs 160, is good at making holes and holds his place splendidly in running interference. He will not weaken the team at any juncture.

J. C. Kercheval, sub gard, is one of the strong men for the place. Tall, weighs 170, clear head and desperate attitude intimi-dates man opposite him. He is a sopho-more mechanical engineer and strong stu-

THE DE PAUW GIANTS. Men Who Will Try to Wrest the Championship from Purdue. During the present season DePauw is, without doubt, playing the best game of her football career. Individual play has been, to a great extent, thrown aside and team work has taken its place. Two Ohio teams, Wittenburg and Springfield, have been shut out, and her per cent. in the intercollegiate is on a par with Purdue. The game with Ann Arbor showed De Pauw to be a strong possibilty in the coming championship contest. The Thanksgiving game will be the supreme test. Purdue having won the championship for two years past, and by virtue of the splendid game she is now playing, expects to win, and has no doubt of her ability so to do, but from present indications the young "Corn Huskers" from DePauw may force her to guard her crown of laurels zealously. The DePauw team is under the watchful eye and energetic coaching of A. N.

Sager, of the Chicago Athletic Club. He was DePauw's coach last year, and is very popular both with the men and the school. He played center for Chicago during her world's fair games, and is "up" in al football matters. Should the team make a good showing, too much praise cannot be given Sager.

M. D. Aber, manager of DePauw football team, is a native of Ohio, but has spent the greater part of his life west of the Mississippi. He graduated from Missouri Normal in '88, and was engaged in teaching, newspaper work and railroading until '91, when he entered DePauw-class of '94. During his first year was managing editor of DePauw Weekly. Has always been prominent in college affairs, from class fights to elections, from philosophical discussions to moonlight strolls. On account of his great business ability and tact for management he was last year elected foot-ball manager, when the outlook was the darkest for DePauw, and it is largely owing to his untiring efforts that DePauw athletics has attained such success, He found the association bankrupt and in debt. He leaves it in fine financial footing and DePauw athletics on a high plane. Mr. Aber is a foremost member of Phi Kappa Psi, and expects to follow the law after Howard Mounts, left end, is from Hud-son, Ind., and was born Dec. 11, 1871. He is a member of the senior class in law, and this is his first season at football, he taking place made vacant by breaking of Mr. Dee's leg in Danville-DePauw game early in the season. He is rather tall, well built, active and speedy on his feet, making fine

B. F. Roller, left guard, was born July 1, 1875, at Newman, Ill. He is a new man, and it is his first season also. Powerfully built, large, broad shoulders and very fleet place as well as any man DePauw has had in the last few years. He is the only representative of the Preparatory School in Maverick Terrell, center rush, lives at San Antonio, Tex., and was born July 12, 1874. He is a member of the class of '96, and is another new man, both in the team and to the game. His weight is 195 pounds, height five feet eleven inches. He is a splendid French linguist and a member of Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Amos Mitchell, right guard, is built for a line player. With the strength of an Ajax, the grace and ease of a tiger, a clear head, a haif back can generally find an opening when "Mitch" plays. He is a member of "96, played same position in last year's team as this and belongs to Delta Tau Delta fraternity. He was born Oct. 21, 1872 at fraternity. He was born Oct. 21, 1873, at Clayton, Ind., weight 195 pounds, height five feet nine inches. Dale Sedgewick, right tackle, was born July 17, 1889, at Casey, Ill. He is a fine offensive player, having played same place

TERRELL.

A. W. Collins, right end, has a splendid future before him. Speedy and ever alert, his game is vicious and offensive, watching every chance, his play is one of the features of the present DePauw team. Absolutely fearless in his nature, he bids fair to make by long odds the best end DePauw ever had. Collins was born Oct. 12, 1873, at Vin-cennes, played substitute on 'varsity '92, a senior in college and a member of Beta Edward Patterson, quarter back, was born Feb. 25, 1874, and lives at Greencastle. The position of quarter back has always been a weak spot in the DePauw team, but Pat-terson puts a snap and fire into it which coupled with his blocking ability aids the team work wonderfully. His passes are generally true, and he is one of the most promising men on the team; a member of '96; played left field on the baseball club in 92, and second base in '93, and belongs to Phi Gamma Delta fraternity; weight, 140 pounds; height, five feet ten and one-half

George U. Dunn, left half back, is a new man, but his work is worthy of an older player. He takes the place formerly played by Minor, and he is fully capable of filling it. With a quick eye, cool head, being a clever dodger and speedy runner, he advances the ball more than any other man on the team. He was born Oct. 19, 1871, and comes from Dunnville, Ind; weight, 165 pounds; height, five feet ten inches. He is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. a sophmore in college and a "surprise" in E. W. Albright, right half, comes from Middletown, Ind., and was born May 1, 1875; played on class team two years; class of '97. He weighs 175 pounds, stands five feet nine inches in height, is a heavy "line hit-ter," runs low and rarely fails to advance Jack Kuykendall, full back, is a "chun-ky," short little fellow, weighing about 118 pounds, who played quarter last year. but finds as full he is of much more advantage. He is the most artful dodger on the team, slippery as an eel and a most daring tackler, holding his own in a most surprising manner against larger and heavier men. He was born July 7, 1873, at Vi-enna, Ill; a member of '96, belongs to Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, is five feet three inches in height, and all-round favorite in Arthur Whitcomb, last year's famous tackler, is now the captain of the team, taking the place of C. H. Smith, DePauw's old center rush, who is at present playing center for Ann Arbor. Whitcomb was born

Jan. 18, 1873, at Clinton, Ind., and has had three years' experience in football. He is

State. His work is sharp, quick and full of fire, and if any man breaks the invinci-ble rush line of Purdue Whitcomb will be that man. He is a member of Delta Tau Delta, a senior in college, played field and third base on the ball club, represented DePauw in tennis at State field day in '91, ranked as one of the best hitters in the State in baseball, and as captain and student to make the baseball, and as captain and student to make the baseball, and as captain and student to make the baseball. dent is much liked by the men. He will go to Yale after completing the course at DePauw.
W. N. Simpson, substitute half back and tackle, was born Aug. 20, 1866, at Gridley.

Ill., played tackle on last year's eleven, is a fine interferer, and puts his entire energy into the game. He is a "barb," an athletic director from the Theological School, and expects to enter the ministry.

J. C. Rucklehouse, substitute center, is an Indianapolis boy, and was born March 11, 1873. He is a member of junior law, and weighs 185 pounds; height, five feet eleven Lee Travis, substitute half back, was born Feb. 10, 1875, at Pana, Ill. He is a splendid line bucker, and played half on last year's team. "Jack" was so injured in the Danville-DePauw game as to make practice impossible to him, which accounts for his playing substitute. He is a member of '9 and weighs 158 pounds; height, five feet H. L. Bearss, substitute half back, comes from Peru, Ind., and was born April 13, 1875. He is a member of the preparatory school and played on "prep" team at Pur-E. W. Stotts hails from Marshalltown, Ia., was born July 6, 1875, and is substitute guard. He played right guard on the Iowa College football team in 1892. He is a member of the class of '97.

The DePauw Athletic Association is in fine financial condition, and everything will be done to advance the standard of athletics both in school and in the State that can possibly be done by the officers and members of the association.

Barflies on a Destructive Spree. Otto Wellman, known as "Indian," and Thomas Shea, two young men employed at the resort of Fred Heier, borrowed the latter's vehicle yesterday afternoon and rode out East Washington street. Both men were intoxicated, and after badly wrecking the buggy, attempted to walk back to the city. Wellman in his effort to navigate ran his arm through a window glass of the Pea-green grocery, and with his companion was arrested. Wellman's arm was badly cut, and Dr. Earp, who ex-amined it, found an artery severed.

ple Suburban Railroad Company filed articles of association with the Secretary of State, with a capital stock of $50,000, which, the articles state, will be increased from time to time as the necessities of the enterprise demand. The directors are R. T. Mc-Donald, R. W. Clay, Sterling R. Holt, R. C. Light, Leon Bailey, Thomas Taggart and A. G. Smith. Besides these named gentlemen the stockholders are Samuel Harmony, Fred W. Bailey, G. F. Miller E. J. Robinson, E. M. Johnson, Joseph Fanning, George Bingham, James R. Henry, J. W. Kern and Fred W. Cady. Mr. McDonald owns 150 shares and Mr. Clay 300. The other fifty are divided up among these prominent men of the city, whose names are mentioned, none of whom professed to know anything about the matter. Sterling R. Holt ventured to say, last night, that the filing of the articles meant simply that the road would sometime be built, probably next year. Thomas Tag-gart was willing to bet that he was not a director of the company, and seemed some-what surprised to find out that he really did occupy the position, as he does not care to waste his time on small matters. The proprietorship of the Grand Hotel is enough to keep one man pretty busy. Mr. McDonald is still interested in the Broad Ripple park.

burgiars some time during Monday night and three watches, $5 in cash and a pair of gold spectacles carried away. The burglars obtained an entrance to the house by forcing open a rear window, and once inside ransacked the house without being detect-ed. The robbery was not discovered till yesterday morning when the family arose, although one of the watches and the cash had been taken from the room in which Mr. Death of Dr. Holcomb.

Mrs. D. D. Moore received word of the death of her brother-in-law, Dr. Wm. H. Holcombe, in New Orleans yesterday morning. Dr. Holcombe and his wife spent several weeks here during this and last month, and only left for home on the 11th of November. Dr. Holcombe was a famous physician and a writer of national reputation. He had a large acquaintance in this city and State, and his death will be deeply deplored by a large circle of friends here and elsewhere.
